you need to know about

The changes you need to know about

The Australian Standard 1428.1-2009 (Incorporating Amendment No.1) has now been referenced in the Building Code of Australia and the Disability (Access to Premises-Buildings) Standards 2010.

This Workshop will provide an update for referring Occupational Therapists and HMMS Builders/Tradespeople who complete home modifications on the changes to AS1428.1-2009 (Incorporating Amendment No.1) and the impact on home modifications.

Participants will gain a working knowledge of these changes by translating theory into practice through the use of practical examples and case studies.

CPD points are applicable.

Keith Stevenson, Specialist Technical Officer, and Margaret Neuss, Specialist Occupational Therapist, will present this Workshop on behalf of the NSW HMMS State Council.

Participants will be provided with handouts and Certificates of Participation.

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Keith Stevenson, Specialist Technical Officer, NSW HMMS State Council

was appointed the inaugural Specialist Technical Officer for the NSW HMMS State Council in February 2008. The key focus of this position is on capacity building initiatives such as training, the development of technical resources for the HMMS sector and enhancing the collaborative working partnerships between Builders and Occupational Therapists. Keith is a licensed Builder with 18 years extensive experience in the residential building industry. Previously the Building Co-ordinator for Auburn, Holroyd and Parramatta HMMS from 2002-2008, Keith has a thorough knowledge of the HMMS industry. Keith has a Certificate IV in Workplace Training and Assessment (2010).

Margaret Neuss, Specialist Occupational Therapist, NSW HMMS State Council

was appointed as Specialist Occupational Therapist for the NSW HMMS State Council in October 2007. The primary focus of this position is on training and resource development for the HMMS sector with particular emphasis on capacity building initiatives for Occupational Therapists and fostering partnerships between Occupational Therapists and Builders. Margaret has extensive experience as a practising Occupational Therapist in metropolitan, regional and rural settings in NSW. Further experience gained while working in the UK consolidated her skills, particularly in relation to prescribing high cost home modifications such as lifts. Margaret has been involved in designing and/or presenting training programs for Occupational Therapists in environmental modifications in the home for many years. Margaret has a Masters of Education (UNSW) and Certificate IV in Training and Assessment (2011).
